Every body has heard and read of Colonel Granville Moody, the fighting parson of the 74th Ohio. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Figua, Ohio, describes a rich scene that occurred in that place, iniwhich the Rev. Colonel was a promment actor. The news had just been received of the sursender of Lee:

The dispatches were read to an excited concourse of ladies and gentlemen, who, by their repeated bursts of applianas, attested that bearty approval of the shape matters were assuming in the Oid Domision. The reading was done by Rev. Granville, well, known, as Cel. Moody, of the 74th Ohio. Threacheers were proposed by Gol. Moody of our parious President. Our reassus.
